Take Leadership Of Your Life

Ways To Move Forward With Your Life

Gaye O'Brien is passionate about inspiring businesses and individuals to perform better and enhance their lives.

She is pictured here with Suncorp staff: Kellie Neil, Branch Manager Brooke Page, Kylie Simpson and Ashlee Davis, after providing them with motivational tips to improve their sales and customer relations. Gaye said, "Many people set themselves up for failure and suffer overwhelm because they expect to do too many things at once. I have a process that helps to overcome that."

As Brooke Page manager of Suncorp said, "We had a great opportunity to have Gaye O'Brien, a motivational speaker, educator and author at our branch to deliver a speech to inspire the staff to be more self-motivated and more attentive to their talents and engrained abilities."

"Gaye has the ability to inspire the staff to pull together and focus on improving the effectiveness of the business," she added.

She has taught in many areas of the education and training sectors working with parents, colleagues and students and has recently written "NLP Essentials for Teachers: The Art of Encouraging Excellence in Your Students".

Gaye is a featured author in "Adventures in Manifesting: Healing From Within" and conducts regular live events to assist individuals to transform their lives and also provides a home study program.

She is conducting a one-day workshop "Take Leadership Of Your Life" on Saturday, 24th August. The transformational workshop will enable you to adopt empowering beliefs, a growth mindset and align your values to what you want. To register, visit www.gayeobrien.com or ring 0488187022.
